WEDNESDAY, JULY 15, 1857.

ST. SWITHIN'S DAY .- There is an old proverb connected with the 15th of July-"the day we celebrate." It is to this effect, that, "if it rains on St. Swithin's Day, it will rain forty days following."-The origin is as follows: In the year 865 Swithin, Bishop of Winchester, England, dying, was cannonized by the then Pope. He was, at his own reque, buried in the church yard; but the monks thinking it disgraceful for the saint to be buried in open ground, resolved to remove his body into the choir, which was to have been done with solemn procession on the 15th of July. It rained, however, so violently on that day and for forty days succeeding, as had hardly ever been known, which made them set aside their design, and instead erect a chapel over his grave.

SAD CASUALTY .- We learn from the Shelby News that a sad casualty occurred to Mr. Coleman H. Brown, of Spencer county, early on Saturday morning last, which resulted in his death. He was going to the field to plow, and, as is supposed, the horse stumbled and threw him off. One of his feet becoming tangled in the harness, the horse became frightened and ran, dragging Mr. Brown under his hind feet for a distance of some three hundred yards over rocks, etc., and so mangling and injuring him that he died within an hour and a half after being

THE DAM AT RUMSEY .- Dr. R. Haggard, President of the Board of Internal Improvement, was in the city yesterday. He has just left Rumsey, on Green river, where the dam recently gave way, interrupting the navigation of that stream. The extent of the damage has not yet been ascertained, but the contract for repairs has been awarded to Capt. Sproule and Mr. Wm. Brown, who have already eighty workmen engaged.

THE INDIANA BANK CASE DECIDED. - Monday morning Judge Major, of the Madison circuit court. gave a decision on the question of the constitutionality of the State Bank charter, raised by demurrer In favor of the Bank. The question was the validity of the passage of an amendment to the charter when the record did not show that the constitutional forms had been observed in reading it, and voting upon it. The case will be appealed.

The residence of Mr. Thomas B. Combs, a Salem, Ind., was destroyed by fire on Saturday morning last. The fire was discovered about 5 o'clock in the morning under a stairway, and is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. Mr. C.'s loss is about $1,500.

On Saturday night Mr. Wm. R. Bentley's stable was set on fire, but the flames were extinguished without doing much damage.

GRASSHOPPERS .- Our Minnesota exchanges continue filled with accounts of the ravages of the grasshoppers. charming poetry:

[For the Louisville Bulletin.] FIRST LOVE.

A dreamy sweetness haunts my heart to-night, Like fragrance borne from distant unseen flowers; The souls of last year's roses crushed and dead, Or ghosts of by-gone days and buried hours. Come back to make the passing moments blest As, idly sitting 'neath the garden wall, watch the lights go drifting through the shade While at my teet the fragrant rose-leaves fall Years, years ago I loved a gentle maid
With eyes like dew-drops which the sun has kiased Her hair in soft unbraided ripples lay Above her forehead like a golden mist;

Her lips, the outlet of a ruby cup,

Poured forth sweet sounds, like rich enchanting wine
I drained the silvery flow till every vein Was filled with pulsings of a love divine To-night I'm dreaming of a summer eve, When we two wandered where the lilies lean Through scented woods, by dim secluded streams Grass-fring'd, and bordered thick with willows green; In wild caress I plucked a hily bell And crushed its dainty snow upon her lips— Oh how I longed to be the envious bloom

That swooned to death beside the red eclipse; So fair she looked as smiling through her frown She gazed upon me, in such sweet surprise, wished that I were sleep, so I might come
And kiss the ivory folds that held her eyes— But then I envied most a silken tress

That fell upon her neck so warm and white and would have died to be the clinging gold That seemed to nestle there in soft delight; Her graceful shadow thrown upon the grass I could have knelt and kissed with fondest wile For oh my bounding heart was prisoned in The dimpled meshes of her winning smile.

Brimmed with delicious draughts of Life's first love We held no plighted troth, no murmured vow, Yet we both felt no other hand than mine

Should place the bridal wreath upon her brow. Alas, alas for youthful hope and trust— I lived to see her made another's bride. And when I clasped her hand no tremblings told Of that sweet time when we walked side by side: We met as strangers in the festive throng,

No love-light nestled in her stately eyes: seemed as cold, yet still I often turned And watched to see the old expression rise. The glances sweet and strange, half emiles, half tears, The bashful pouting lip, the faltering tone, All gone, and not a flitting blush to tell
That we two wandered in the wood alone.

This memory once was bitter, bitter pain, But now I kold it of all things most sweet, And love to dream that pleasant dream again While fragrant rose-leaves flutter round my feet.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

There were 4 feet 6 inches water in the canal last In the Cumberland there were two feet water on the shoals on Sunday. A fleet of boats are advertised to leave to-day, but none for New Orleans.

For St. Louis there is the regular packet Highflyer, Capt. Wright, with Mr. Halliday in the office. She is a capital boat.

The splendid new steamer Hesperian, Capt. Kercheval, takes the same destination. She was to have gone yesterday, but could not be got ready. Several other boats are advertised to leave for the same port.

> FRAUDS UPON THE PENSION OFFICE.-Intelligence has been received by the Commissioner of Pensions that William H. Browning, a notary publis of New London, Connecticut, has been convicted of forging and transmitting false papers to the Pension Bureau for the purpose of obtaining bounty land warrants, and sentenced to the penitentiary at Weatherfield for five years.

> C. T. Minor, of the same place, has also been in dicted for a like offense, and held to bail in the sum of $10,000 for his appearance at the August term of the court, which will be held at New Haven. Failing to procure the bail required, Mr. Minor was committed to prison.

AMERICANS OF GEORGIA.-The American State Convention of Georgia assembled at Milledgeville last week. It was very numerously attended, and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. Hon. Benj. H. Hill, of Troup county, was unanimously nominated for Governor.

The report that the walls of the Capitol building at Washington are too weak to support the new iron dome, is entirely incorrect.

ARREST OF ANDREW FINDLAY.—This individual, paominent in the criminal records of our country, both in the Martha Washington and in the New York forgery cases, was before the police court yesterday, charged with assaulting and beating a woman by the name of Emma Wood, at a disreputable house. Findlay plead guilty to the assault. The Court then sentenced him to ten days' imprisonment in the dungeon of the county jail.

Findlay remarked: "May it please the Court. I am sick, and can't the case be remitted to a fine?"

The Court—No, sir. You are wanted in New Orleans, and in order to punish you for the offense we give you the fullest penalty.

After going down stairs, Findlay proposed to pay the telegraphic expenses to New Orleans in order to give the authorities information relative to his case, which was declined.—Crs. Esq.

Ex-Governor Wright, of Indiana, the newly appointed Minister to Prussia, was in our city yes-terday. He purposes visiting his children and the relatives of his deceased wife in Bourbon and Scott counties before his departure for Europe.

On the night of the 13th his political and personal friends in Indianapolis gave him a grand banquet. The Indianapolis Journal has a very amusing burlesque account of the proceedings, ridiculing the distinguished guest, which does not exactly comport with an editorial article in the same issue. The port with an editorial article in the same issue. The latter says:

The anticipation of the departure of Gov. Wright has already opened up the sluices of malignity. We heard yesterday on the street that he had been assailed by the Brightites in the most virulent manner, and by some in high places who have no character to lose, and no sobriety to govern their emissions of wrath. We have our own estimate of his Excellency, and have never suppressed it. It is true we have often laughed at him, and given currency to popular jokes about him, but we have never failed, when speaking seriously of his career, to award him just praise for his abilities and character. Now, on his departure, we wish to see him go with good feeling from all parties. He has done the State service, and the State should acknowledge it. And to assail him now is an evidence of a want of manly courage, and of ordinary sense. He cannot defend himself, and those gentlemen who have degraded themselves by using this occasion to cover him with abuse, will find it a bad business. He at least has a reputation for sobriety that cannot be awarded to those whose attacks have been bitterest. We hope to see Gov. Wright return with the credit of having discharged his duty well, and we wish him farewell with all kindness.

SERMON TO THE CITIZEN SOLDIERS .- On Sabbath evening last, Rev. Mr. Dennison delivered a very eloquent, able, and pointed address to the newlyorganized military companies of our city. It was a thoroughly practical discourse, abounding in the very best advice.

At a subsequent meeting of the Citizen Guards, who attended the services at St. Paul's church in a body, the following resolutions were offered by Henry Chambers, Esq., and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we heard with the deepest gratifi-cation the address of the Rev. H. M. Dennison to the military companies of this city on Sunday evening last.

Resolved, That, in tendering to Mr. Dennison our thanks for his able, dignified, and eminently practi-cal discourse, we congratulate him on the complete success which he achieved on that occasion. Resolved, That Mr. Dennison be presented with a

The suit of David Myerle vs the United States, on a contract for the supply of water-rotted hemp, in 1851, has just been decided by the Court of Claims. After summing up the points, the Court savs:

It is difficult to estimate with accuracy what It is difficult to estimate with accuracy what sum it would be equitable to pay a person under these circumstances; but if Congress be of opinion that justice requires that the claimant should be indemnified to any extent, it is for them to determine the amount. The evidence shows that an active and enterprising man of business became embarrassed in his circumstances, and was deprived of the just and fair profits of an honest occupation, by his efforts to promote a matter of national concern. We submit the whole matter to the consideration of Congress, for such action as they, under all the circumstances, shall consider just and equitable.

THE SOUTHERN CONVENTION .- The Baltimore Patriot remarks with a great deal of pertinency and Professor De Bow and four other gentlemen of the South have issued a call for a Southern Convention to meet at Knoxville on the second Monday—the 10th day—of August next. Considered in a social point of view, these Southern conventions have always proved pleasant and attractive, but for any practical results that are likely to grow out of them hey are absolutely worthless.

OPERATION OF THE NEW TARIFF.-The New York Commercial Advertiser of Saturday says:

Eight business days have elapsed since the reduced tariff enacted by the late session of Congress went into operation, and though the clerks of the Custom House have been kept busily employed during that time, the fears of a serious derangement of money matters by the calls for the payment of duties have not been realized. The whole amount of duties paid on the merchandise entered for consumption has been only a trifle in excess of two and a half millions, or a little more than three hundred thousand dollars per day. For the week ending last evening the amount was $1,894,340, and we have no reason to suppose that the ratio of payments will be in any larger proportion, at all events until the setting

Commissioners of the Sinking Fund purchased $43,000 of the above bonds at New York, under the proposals offered to them there, on the 8th inst., at a discount of eleven per cent., being 89 cents, clearing thus an addition to the school fund, to arise from the profits of the State in the State Bank, of four thousand seven hundred and thirty dollars.

We learn that they have already added to the fund nearly $30,000 by the discount at which they have purchased the bonds.—Indianapolis Journal.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JULY 15, 1857.

The editor of the Dallas (Texas) Herald, who has just returned from a visit to the Lower Brazos Reservation, where he had a favorable opportunity of witnessing the working of the policy adopted by the Government of colonizing the Texas Indians, says that this policy is succeeding beyond the most sanguine hopes. In the Lower Reserve there are bands of some eight or ten tribes, among others the Wacoes, Caddoes, Tankaways, Tiwakanays, Keecheis, Anadarcoes, Ionies, &c. They are settled in villages, have built comfortable huts and wigwams, and are cultivating corn and wheat.

A resident of South Danvers (Mass.) informs the Salem Gazette, that, within a circuit of three miles of his residence, the onion crop returned to the raisers one hundred thousand dollars in cash! This will give an adea of the importance of the celebrated onion crops to that town. It is supposed that the destruction by the maggot may affect this crop throughout the country to the amount of [Correspondence of the New York Times.] Mulitary Proceedings against the Mormons—our Diffi-culties with New Granada.

WASHINGTON, July 11, 1857. The administration are, at length, alive to the necessity of crushing out the Mormons, as a set of vipers, while it is yet within their power. They are sensible that the temporizing policy of the late administration had the effect to give confidence to Brigham Young and his followers, and encourage them to persist in a treasonable course towards the linited States.

The military arrangements have been made with great skill, and with a view to actual service, and to ample supplies for a winter campaign. The ve-teran Lieutenant General Scott and Quartermaster teran Lieutenant General Scott and Quartermaster General Jesup superintend these arrangements.

There is now no doubt that processes against Brigham Young and others for treason and felony will be issued, and that they will be tried. The question between the United States law and Mormon occupation will be settled, whether with or without force.

There is no doubt that Congress committed a gross error when they constituted for Utah a Terriborial government. They had every reason to doubt the expediency of permitting a body of foreign fanatics to form a government in the centre of the continent, and on the route between the Mississippi and the Pacific.

The Mormons, when they were expelled from Nauvoo and plunged into the wilderness, intended to set up a separate and independent government and claim the country as their own.

Judge Bowlin, the late Minister to New Grenada,

Judge Bowlin, the late Minister to New Grenada, has had several interviews with the Secretary of State. He brings intelligence of an important nature; no change having occurred in the situation of our affairs with New Grenada.

President Ospina, however much disposed he may be toward an adjustment of the pending questions, is not able to resist the tide of popular prejudice against the Americans.

It appears, too, that the treaty-making power, according to the constitution of New Grenada, is not vested in the President, with the consent of the Senate, as is the case with the United States, but in the popular branch of Congress also, and it requires the ice of the President, the Senate, and the popular branch to ratify a treaty.

This provision will render it exceedingly difficult even to adjust the matter upon our terms by a treaty.

Sailing of the North Starsailed precisely at 12 o'clock on Saturday, with the United States mails for Southampton and Havre, 177 passengers, and $200,000 in specie. Auguste Parot, connected with the extensive frauds upon the Northern Railway Company, was among the passengers, but his wife, to whom he was married on Friday, does not appear on the passenger list. That is no sort of reason, on the passenger list. That is no sort of reason, however, for presuming she is not on board under another name. Parot was accompanied from the Eldridge street jail to the steamer by Deputy Marshal Theodore Rynders, in whose charge he goes to France, and by several other deputies.

A party of some fifteen in one crowd attempted to go below, who said they had business with him, but the Marshal sent them back, telling them there had been a pretty long season for the Hon. Joel W. White, consul to Lyons, J. R. Diller, tonsul to Bremen, and Henry Smith, the Razor-Strop-Man, were among the distinguished passengers. Mr. Smith goes to London to pay a visit of respect and affection to his aged father.

A MAGNETIC WHIRLWIND.—We witnessed a singular phenomenon while coming from Milwaukee to this place last week on a steam tug, which may not be new to sailors, but it was something we never saw or heard of before. When off Bailey's harbor, about three miles from shore, the compass began to oscillate from point to point, without remaining a moment at any one place, until finally it acquired a rotary motion and spun around with great rapidity. We stopped it several times, but it would again commence veering backward and forward and very soon begin whirling again. This continued for several miles.

We are informed by Captain Crooks, of the White Cloud, who was on board at the time, that, from local attraction or from some other cause, the needle can never be depended upon in that vicinity—though in this instance it was more than usually affected. The weather was fine at the time, and we had daylight before us; but, had there been rough weather and a dark night, we should have had some anxiety for our little "pocket steamboat."

SUMMARY OF CALIFORNIA NEWS.

The arrival of the Collector of this port, together with many prominent politicians, on the Golden Gate, which vessel reached here on the 15th inst., has tended to increase the political excitement, and hundreds of expectants of office under the new administration are zealously employed in securing office from the one and nominations to office from the other. All over the State the wire-workers are "laying pipe" for the Democratic State Convention, which convenes at the Capital on the 4th proximo. Tae feud between the Broderick and Weller factions is growing in intensity, and an interesting and exciting campaign has already commenced. The administration will probably concentrate their forces on Col. Weller as their Gubernatorial candidate, whilst the Broderick clique will bring forward Judge McCorkle or John Conness as his competitor for the McCorkle or John Conness as his competitor for the

It is said that Col. Washington, who assumes the duties of the Collectorship in July, intends to rigidly enforce the Democratic doctrine of "rotation in office," by dismissing the army of Custom-House officials, all of whom are to make way for new aspi-

Sandwich Islands.—By the arrival of the bark Yankee at San Francisco we have received advices to May 21st. The British steamship Pearl had arrived from Callao, and the American brigantine Morning Star from Boston. This vessel belongs to some thousands of Sabbath School children in Boston and vicinity. She was warmly received at Hon-olulu. The children of the Sunday Schools turned out in procession and presented the captain with a banner, and subscribed also for many shares of stock.

EXTRAORDINARY BEE HIVES .- The inmates of one of our largest up town mansion houses, a few days since, were surprised to find a large number of little fellows continued to occupy the places, a bee naturalist was sent for to investigate the matter. On entering one of the rooms he exclaimed: "You have honey somewhere he.e.," and proceeded to search for it. On removing the fire-board he discovcerd that one flue of the chimney was full of honey comb which was hanging down into the fire-place, and the honey dropping from it; proceeding to the top of the house to sound the chimney, he found the flue full of the comb to the top, and the bees still at work. In the other room he found it the same; one work. In the other room he found it the same; one flue of the chimney was full, and the bees were industriously at work there also.

The flues of the chimney had never been used; they were plastered smooth inside, and were perfectly dark, a stone having been placed on the top of each flue. The bees had descended the adjoining flues, and found small holes about ten inches from the top of the chimney, leading into the closed flues, and through these holes they had made their way in and out. They have, as I supposed, occupied these places for three years, having been kept warm in the winter by the heat from the adjoining

On removing the fire-board, the bees, seeking the great light which had broken in upon them, descended to the room and gathered on the windows until they were covered to the thickness of three inches. It is estimated that there are in the two flues from 40,000 to 50,000 bees, and from 2,000 to 3,000 pounds of honey.—Portland Advertiser.

China.—The Singapore correspondent of the London Times says that we have a little dispute here between the English and American authorities. On the 25th of February last the American ship Cœur de Leon, Capt. Tucker, bound to China, fell in with the Dutch ship Henrietta Maria. Captain Tucker boarded her and found she was navigated by a Chinese crew only. Their story was that they had risen against the Dutchmen and compelled the captain to run over to Cochin-China, where they allowed him and his officers to take the boats, and they were trying to make their way to China. Capt. Tucker took possession of the Henriette Maria, after considerable difficulty, and brought her to Singapore. The authorities here sent over to Batavia to give notice of the circumstances. The Yankee hoisted the American fiag on board the Henriette Maria, and Singapore authorities sent over an armed force ed the American fiag on board the Henriette Maria, and Singapore authorities sent over an armed force and hauled it down. A Dutch vessel of war now arrived and took away the ship, and the Batavia authorities say that any claim for salvage can be duly decided by the courts of Batavia. Captain Tucker then put the matter into the hands of the consul, and the American sloop-of-war Portsmouth went ostensibly to see about it, but, as I believe, to take in the ratification of the American treaty with Siam.

The dates from Foo-choo are to the 30th of April, and mention the near approach of the rebels, causing considerable uneasiness among the merchants and wealthy people, who were removing their property. A stoppage of trade was anticipated, and no operations in tess could be carried on for the next

I am credibly informed that the conflicting interests of Sloo and company on one hand, and Garay and Hargous on the other, relative to the Tehauntepec route, have been settled and adjusted through the mediation of the administration. It has been one of the most difficult and perplexing questions that has been before them. The basis of this settlement I am not at liberty at present to disclose, but understand it is satisfactory to both parties.

Counterfett and Adulterated Liquors.—A correspondent of the London Times noticed in the list of joint stock companies in Paris, formally sanctioned by the prefect of police, the name of "the general company of fictitious or counterfeit wines." This company states in its advertisement that no grape juice or alcohol is used, but does not specify the ingredients. It has a capital of six million francs, and the product is sold at from four to eight sous per quart. The wines are subjected to chemical analysis, by authority, and are said to have all the taste, appearance, and hygienic qualities of the natural juice of the grape. We can see no wrong in imitating wines or any other liquor, if the product is not sold as genuine; and if the ingredients are innocent, the manufacture of mes as legitimately within the sphere of commerce as does the manufacture of pure liquors. The wrong is in selling a counterfeit for what it is not, and in compounding liquors of deleterious materials. The liquor market is flooded with such vile counterfeits, and there is but little if any guaranty either to the buyer or seller that anything is good.

We were lately told of a circumstance touching this point, which, although not unusual, is still valuable as showing the extent of this nefarious manufacture of adulterated liquors. Our informant was on a visit to a friend, a liquor dealer in a Western city, and in the space of an hour saw him transform a barrel of high wines into "pure French brandy." The barrel was stamped with the custom-house brand, and had all the appearance of a sea voyage and hard usage. The manufacturer poured in the basis of the ingredients (the high wines) and then having scented it with about two ounces of the oil of cognae, added a pailful of a compound which he COUNTERFEIT AND ADULTERATED LIQUORS.

having scented it with about two ounces of the oil of cognac, added a pailful of a compound which he had mixed from one bucket to another, and which had mixed from one bucket to another, and which was to give it its taste and color. The component parts of this last mixture were absolutely poisons, directly destined to sap the energy and finally destroy the life of the poor victims to a habit that leads them to the use of such stimulants! Upon this barrel the manufacturer would make over two hundred dollars, and the retailer probably as much more. When we take such facts into consideration, can there be any wonder that prohibitory laws should be made, or can any laws restraining the traffic and punishing the trafficker be too severe?

Don't Stay Long.—It is rarely indeed that we have read anything more truthfully pathetic than the subjoined waif, which we find floating among our exchanges. Would that every husband in our city might read and profit by it:
"Don't stay long, husband," said a young wife tenderly, in my presence, as her husband was preparing to go out. The words themselves were insignificant, but the look of melting fondness with which they were accompanied spoke volumes. It told all the whole vast depth of woman's love—of her grief when the light of his smile, the source of all her joy, beamed not brightly upon her.

all her joy, beamed not brightly upon her.

"Don't stay long, husband," and I fancied I saw the loving, gentle wife sitting alone, anxiously counting the moments of her husband's absence, every few moments running to the door to see if he was in sight, and finding that he was not, I thought I could hear her avoicing in disappointed tones. I could hear her exclaim in disappointed tones,

'Don't stay long, husband," and I sgain thought I could see the young wife rocking nervously in the great arm chair, and weeping as though her heart would break, as her thoughtless "lord and master" prolonged his stay to a wearisome length of time.

O, you that have wives to say, "Don't stay long," when you go forth, think of them kindly when you are mingling in the busy hive of life and try just are mingling in the busy hive of life, and try, just a little, to make their homes and hearts happy, for they are gems so seldom replaced. You cannot find amid the pleasures of the world the peace and joy that a quiet home blessed with such a woman's presence will afford.

"Don't stay long, husband!" and the young wife's look seemed to say—for here in your own sweet home is a loving heart, whose music is hushed when you are absent—here is a soft breast for you to lay your head upon, and here are pure lips unsoiled by sin, that will pay you with kisses for coming back soon.

ANOTHER ASIATIC RAILWAY .- We observe among other novelties in our last European files, that a com-pany has been organized in London, with a capital of £1,200,000, for the construction of a railway from of £1,200,000, for the construction of a railway from Smyrna to Addin, a distance of seventy miles, which will bring the two cities within three hours of each other, instead of four days, as at present.

The imports and exports of Smyrna amounted in 1856 to $25,000,000. That city contains 160,000 people and Addin 60,000, the latter being a converging point for much of the inland traffic of that part of Asia Minor, on its way to the seaboard. At presents Minor, on its way to the seaboard. At pres ent 10,000 camels are employed, at a cost of £400,-000 a year, to convey produce and merchandise be-tween the two places. When the projected railway is completed, all this animal activity will disappear.

The Turkish Government has granted a concession (charter) for the projected railroad, takes 15,000 shares, and guarantees a dividend of six per cent. It is more than probable that the creative influence of the iron horse will restore the more cultivatable regions of Asia Minor, now almost a wilderness, to the fertility, prosperity, traffic, and population which distinguished that portion of the world in latter days of the Roman republic, and during the reigns of the earlier Casars. Alas! the bygone greatness of Asia Minor is now only attested by the ruins of cities and temples almost innumerable. The agricultural elements and recovers are vast in tabasco. ments and resources are vast, in tobacco, figs, cetton, poppies, the mulberry for silk worms, wheat, maize, barley beans, flax, hemp, seeds, drugs, dye-stuffs, wool, honey, and wax. One of the best features of the speculation is, that there are coal mines at no great distance. Thus are many of the nations of the earth, that had long passed away, about to be resuscitated by the magical agency of steam.

VENTRILOQUISM EXTRAORDINARY.—A night or two since, an officer of the Sixth ward overhauled a colored individual who was coming away from the wharf with a coil of rope. Darkey was ques-tioned as to where he got the chattels, and he re-plied that he was a hand on the steamboat Forest, and that both the rope and its custodian were "full plied that he was a hand on the steamboat Forest, and that both the rope and its custodian were "all right." The officer turned ebony to the right about, and both went together on board the boat. Nobody was in sight, and the darkey went boldly to a gangway, and shouted out, "Hello, Bill." "Hello it is!" came a response, in a gruff, sepulchral tone, which Blitz would have envied, and which seemed to emerge from the depth of the steamer.

"Come up on deck right away, Bill; dere's a police got me for stealin' dis rope!"

"Ay, ay!" ag in shouted the gruff voice—"jist wait, can't you, till I git on my trousis?"

"We'l, pull a heel den and be quick, for I wants to be off."

"Well, pull a heel den and be quick, for I wanted to be off."

This colloquy served to measurably satisfy the officer, and he relaxed his watchfulness over his prisoner. The latter ambraced the opportunity to take his leave slylv, and he took the coil of rope with him. The officer meantime became tired of waiting and went in search of his voucher for his late prisoner. After considerable trouble a man who was sleeping below was roused up and questioned concerning the colored man and the coil of rope. The sleepy individual avowed that he knew nothing about either, and the officer finally ascertained thar he had been regularly "sold" by a thief who possessed first class ventriloquial power.

OUR LECTURE.-Having been requested by a great many persons to repeat our lecture in this city, we have concluded, though with some reluctance. to do so at Mozart Hall on Friday night. We should not consent to repeat it but for the fact a good many people tell us they were prevented from hearing it by the inclemency of the weather. Our opinion is that the tendency of our lecture is to do good, and that its influences are particularly needed at this time. We may flatter ourselves in this, but we earnestly think we do not.

GREAT BARGAINS IN SUMMER, FANCY, AND STAPLE DRY GOODS .- We would invite the attention of ladies, especially those visiting our city in search of the latest styles of all kinds of fancy dry goods, to the stock at the house of G. B. Tabb, corner of Fourth and Market streets. In order to reduce his stock previous to making his fall purchases, he will offer from this date until the close of the season his entire stock of fancy silks, berege, grenadine and organdy robes, silk and lace mantil las, embroideries and lace goods, organdy and jaconet muslins, bereges and tissues, parasols, &c., at greatly reduced prices. His stock of the above goods cannot be excelled in point of variety, style, and elegance by that of any other southern or western house. Ladies will find it to their interest before making their purchases to examine the goods at this house.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebiated folland Professor, Boerhave. Meeting with great success among hem, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that is truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent sprits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in itseffect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

NOTICE.—Whoever expects to find this a beverage will be disappointed; but to the sick, weak, and low spirited it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

CAUTION.

The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. An Incident of the Riot.—John Meyers was a total stranger in the lower part of the city, and, while passing from the Bowery to Broadway, on the afternoon of the 4th inst., he was shot in the zide by a stray bullet from one of the revolvers used on that occasion. He remained in utter ignorance of his wounded condition for nearly three-quarters of an hour after the fatal shot was fired. He crossed Bayard street to Centre, walked down Walker street to West Broadway, and there took one of the Eighth avenue cars. He then rode up as far as Nineteenth street, and it was not till the car stopped, and he attempted to rise and take his departure, that he discovered that he was shot. He felt quite weak, and was unable to rise from his seat. He was assisted to his home, and there attended by a physician, who pronounced the wound a dangerous one. The ball, it appeared, entered the right side, and passing through the cavity of the chest, lodged in the back, near the spinal column. The deceased bled internally, and died from hemorrhage produced by the wound in question.—N. Y. Times.

The title of "London Cordial Gin" is my exclusive prop erty, and in support of this the records of the Custom-houses in the cities of New York, Boston, and Philadelphia show that "CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN" is the only London Gin really imported.

SYRACUSE, July 14.

The trials of mowers came off to-day at 3 o'clock, preceded by speeches and a grand procession at the County Fair Grounds. Upwards of 20 machines were entered, and the display at starting was fine. All did well, but it was soon apparent that the real contest was between the Manny, with Wood's improvement, and Ketchum machines. The struggle was close, Manny coming in slightly ahead. This result was hailed with cheers by the multitude, in which the friends of the Ketchum machine heartily joined. The fact of rapidity of work however does not determine the question of superiority. The other tests will be made during the week. The weather is fine, and all the contestants are in good spirits. SYRACUSE, July 14.

A Tlast the grand object of Medical Science is attained

Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Remedies actually perform what thousands have promised, but never accomplished.
They purpe from the blood the corrupt particles which create and feed diseases. The basis of all the solid portions of the body is the blood, and if that fluid is pure the whole organization must necessarily be vigorous, hardy, and healthful. Hence in the preparation and combination of the ingredients of his famous Scandinavian Remedies, Dr. Roback's great object was to produce a medicine which should rally extinguishing the malady. Persons suffering from dehility from childhood find new vigor infused into them by these wonderful life-lengthening restoratives. They cool the heat of fever, create appetite, render digestion perfect, regulate the bowels, promote sleep, lavigorate the reproductive organs in both sexes, control all disorders of the liver, cure sores, boils, tumors, and all skin diseases, and by inparting to the vital fluid new elements of health literally make life a pleasure instead of the wearisome probation which it must always be to the invalid. These remedies are composed solely of Swedish herbs of rare medicinal virture never before introduced in the practice of pharmacy. Physicians of the highest note in the discoverer's nativeland and in other parts of Europe have certified to the value of the medicines, and they have never yet been administered without being followed by marked success. It is impossible to enumerate in an advertisement a tenth of the complaints for which they are infallible. Suffice it to say that there is no disorder of any organ, unless caused by malformation, tor which they are not adapted, and for the simple reason that the
